YOU MUST CLASSIFY YOURSELF FOR SKIER TYPE
DETERMINING YOUR SKIER TYPE IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY!
 Your skier type, height, weight, age and ski boot sole length are used by the shop to determine the release/retention settings of your ski bindings. Be sure to provide accurate information; any error may increase your risk of injury. Consult these descriptions to select your classification.

TYPE I
"Cautious Skier at Light Release/Retention Settings"
TYPE I SKIERS:

- ski conservatively
- prefer slower speeds
- prefer easy, moderate slopes
- level lower than average release/retention settings

The corresponds to an increased risk of inadvertent binding release in order to gain increased releasability in a fall

- Type I settings apply to entry-level users (children of their classification)

TYPE II
"Moderate Skier at Average Release/Retention Settings"
TYPE II SKIERS:

- ski moderately
- prefer a variety of speeds
- ski on varied terrain, including most difficult runs
- are of users who do not meet all the descriptions of other Type I

TYPE III
"Aggressive Skier at Higher Release/Retention Settings"
TYPE III SKIERS:

- ski aggressively
- normally ski at high speeds
- prefer steeper and more challenging terrain
- favor higher than average release/retention settings

The corresponds to decreased releasability in a fall in order to gain a decreased risk of inadvertent binding release
